

Adrián Lucardi

(November 3, 2015)

Department of Political Science
Washington University in St. Louis
One Brookings Drive
St. Louis, MO – 63130

office: 255 Seigle Hall
email: adrianlucardi@wustl.edu
website: <http://graduate.artsci.wustl.edu/lucardi>
phone: (314) 629-1891

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Comparative politics: competitive authoritarian regimes, democratization, comparative institutions and institutional reform, political careers, electoral systems.

Political Methodology: hierarchical data, Bayesian methods, causal inference, formal models.

EDUCATION

PhD. in Political Science, Washington University in St. Louis. Expected May 2016.

Dissertation: The Dynamics of Competitive Authoritarian Elections.

Committee: Brian F. Crisp (chair), Guillermo Rosas, Jacob M. Montgomery.

Fields: Comparative Politics, Quantitative Methods.

BA. in Political Science, University of San Andrés (Buenos Aires, Argentina), 2006. Summa cum laude.

PEER-REVIEWED PUBLICATIONS

Lucardi, Adrián and Juan Pablo Micozzi. “The Effect of the Electoral Cycle on Legislators’ Career Strategies: Evidence from Argentina, 1983-2007.” (accepted for publication at Legislative Studies Quarterly)

Lucardi, Adrián. 2010. “La Fórmula D’Hondt y la Integración de la Cámara de Diputados Argentina, 2005-2009.” [“The D’Hondt Formula and the Composition of the Argentine Chamber of Deputies, 2005-2009.”] Desarrollo Económico, 196, Enero-Marzo 2010, pp. 629-651. (in Spanish)

WORKING PAPERS

Lucardi, Adrián. “Making Authoritarian Elections Competitive. The Origins of Ruling Party Defections and Opposition Coalitions in Competitive Authoritarian Regimes.” (under review)

Lucardi, Adrián. “Building Support from Below? Subnational Elections, Diffusion Effects, and the Growth of the Opposition in Mexico, 1984-2000.” (under review)

Lucardi, Adrián. “Does District Magnitude Affect Electoral Coordination? Evidence from Two Natural Experiments in Argentina.” (under review)

Lucardi, Adrián and Guillermo Rosas. “Jumping Ship or Jumping on the Bandwagon: When Do Local Politicians Support National Candidates?”

Lucardi, Adrián and María Gabriela Almaraz. “With a Little Help from the Opposition? The Removal of Executive Term Limits in the Argentine Provinces, 1983-2013.”

Lucardi, Adrián. “Do Double-Ballot Rules Increase Support for Third Parties? Evidence from San Luis Potosí, Mexico.”

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

APSA annual meeting. 2013–2014–2015
MPSA national conference. 2012–2013
Argentine Political Science Congress. 2007–2009–2013
COMPASS Graduate Student Conference (UCLA). 2014
Washington-Illinois Student Exchange (WISE). 2014

TEACHING

Department of Political Science, Washington University in St. Louis.

Fall 2015. Quantitative Political Methodology (TA). Instructor: Betsy Sinclair.

Fall 2014. Interchangeables, Influentials, and Essentials (TA). Instructor: Brian F. Crisp.

Spring 2014. Introduction to Comparative Politics (TA). Instructor: Sunita Parikh.

Spring 2013. Quantitative Political Methodology I (TA). Instructor: Guillermo Rosas.

Fall 2012. Multilevel Modeling (TA). Instructor: Jeff Gill.

Department of Humanities, Universidad de San Andrés (Buenos Aires, Argentina).

Spring 2007. History of Political Thought II (TA). Instructor: Robert Barros.

Spring 2007. Principles of State and Law (TA). Instructor: Robert Barros.

Spring 2006. History of Political Thought II (TA). Instructor: Robert Barros.

OTHER EMPLOYMENT

Department of Political Science, Washington University in St. Louis.

Research assistant for professors Brian Crisp, Guillermo Rosas and Dawn Brancati. 2011-2014.

CADAL (Center for the Opening and Development of Latin America, Buenos Aires, Argentina).
Associated Researcher. 2007-present.

Fundación Friedrich A. von Hayek (Buenos Aires, Argentina). Scholar. 2007-2009.

Fieldwork research for Carlos Gervasoni (PhD. in Political Science, University of Notre Dame).
2008.

AWARDS, PRIZES AND FELLOWSHIPS

Westview Press Award for the best paper by a graduate student presented at the 2013 MPSA annual meeting, for “The Curse of Revenue-Sharing? Assessing the Impact of Intergovernmental Fiscal Transfers at the Subnational Level” (co-winner), 2014.

Guillermo O’Donnell Award for best paper in Comparative Politics presented at the XI National Congress of Political Science, for “The Politics of Institutional Change: The Removal of Executive Term Limits in the Argentine Provinces, 1983-2011” (with María Gabriela Almaraz), 2013.

Antoinette Dames Prize for Outstanding Paper in a Graduate Level Class. Department of Political Science, Washington University in St. Louis, 2013.

Fellowship for Young Leaders, Fulbright Commission Argentina, 2007.

Outstanding high school student from the province of Salta (Argentina), EDESA S.A., 2001.

SERVICE

Reviewer, American Journal of Political Science and Revista de Ciencia Política (Santiago, Chile).

Student organizer, Comparative Politics Annual Conference (May 2014, Washington University in St. Louis).

LANGUAGES

English (conversational), Spanish (native), Italian.

Competent in L^AT_EX, R, JAGS.

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

American Political Science Association (APSA), member.

Midwestern Political Science Association (MPSA), member.

Sociedad Argentina de Análisis Político (SAAP), member.

Instituto David Hume (Buenos Aires), alternate board member.

